

Laying the Groundwork to Build Partnerships Across Public Health and Community Health Centers

This SEPHLI Institute will provide public health and community health center leaders the opportunity to learn the leadership skills needed to embrace the new realities of health care and public health in 2011. In the midst of health care reform changes, this promises to be an opportunity of a lifetime to forge partnerships and collaborations that will break down silos and create lasting systemic changes in your state and the Southeast.

The six-month SEPHLI curriculum combines two short on-site retreats with a mixture of distance learning offerings.

Individuals will also complete a challenge project and individual leadership plan.

- ▶ Kick-off – March 1-3, 2011 in Chapel Hill
- ▶ Distance learning– March-September, 2011
- ▶ Graduation –September, 2011 (location TBA)

Applications are now being accepted for 2011

For more information go to www.SEPHLI.org or contact Janet Place at janet_place@unc.edu/919-966-7921

THE NORTH CAROLINA
Institute for Public Health

With generous funding from CDC, HRSA and the NC Division of Public Health and co-sponsored by the NC Community Health Center Association